Presents

“OACP/OMRON Catherine Martin Award of Excellence in Media Relations and Corporate Communications”

Sponsored by

This award is presented in recognition of the dedication and commitment of an individual (or communications team) who has led outstanding communications innovations on behalf of their organization during the past calendar year. The individual or team will have demonstrated excellence in media relations and corporate communications that advanced their organization’s ability to communicate effectively and efficiently with multiple audiences – both within their police service and/or their communities.

To be awarded annually by the OACP and the Chair of OMRON, The Catherine Martin Award for Excellence in Media Relations and Corporate Communications will be presented to a member of a police organization or a civilian (or team) who has demonstrated dedication and professionalism in the strategic use of media, corporate communications, and/or social media – either individually or as part of a campaign or on-going initiatives.

The winner(s) will have initiated programs/initiatives that educate and showcase the profession of policing in their community, promoted public safety, supported, and advanced law enforcement investigations, and effectively connected with their communities to promote community safety and well-being.

The award will be presented at the OACP’s 2023 Annual Conference on Tuesday, June 13, 2023, at Four Points by Sheraton Hotel, Kingston, ON. The recipient will be invited to attend the Awards & Life Members Luncheon to receive the award. The winner will receive an engraved plaque to commemorate the occasion.

Note: Award information is also posted on the OACP website.

Judging and Selection Criteria

Submissions for the “Catherine Martin Award of Excellence in Media Relations and Corporate Communications” will be reviewed by the OACP Awards and Honours Committee with input from the Chair of the OACP OMRON Committee.

The following criteria will be used to judge the nominations:

1. A considerable span of their career is dedicated to media relations.

The nominee has clearly shown a commitment to fostering and promoting good media relations during their career for a considerable (at minimum three years) period of time in a variety of ways. The nominee’s efforts should be detailed.

2. Mentoring and teaching.

The nominee has dedicated him/herself to media relations excellence by mentoring, supporting, and teaching others. These efforts have been directed at the policing profession internally or externally to the officer’s service.

3. A relationship with media and community.

The nominee has displayed a genuine involvement and sense of partnership with the media in order to foster better media and community relations. The nominee has proven that they will take effective action to ease their community’s concerns and highlight the good work of the police through the filter of the media.

4. Impact.

The nomination submission should clearly prove the extent of the nominee’s impact on improving media relations in the Province of Ontario. Results achieved across various communities and/or police services provincially or federally will be of particular interest.
